Summer Meals Program

Community organizations, nonprofits, out-of-school-time programs, churches, housing complexes, and apartment buildings in low-income areas can receive free tasty and nutritious meals delivered right to children and youth all summer long. Find out more about becoming a Fairfax County Free Summer Meals site.

Children have nutritious meals, organized activities, and a chance to interact with peers. Parents stretch food dollars and have healthy recreation for their children. Organizations can spend more time and money providing programming. We all get a healthier, safer community when our children's physical and social needs are met.

As a Free Summer Meals site, you can receive up to two meals per day for any child 18 and under at your site. Meals will be prepared and delivered to you daily by a sponsor. Children do not need to enroll, they just need to show up and eat!

Thousands of children in Fairfax County depend on free or reduced-price school breakfast and lunch for nine months out of the year. For many of those children, summer vacation does not mean "fun in the sun" but rather increased risk of hunger and developmental decline. As community leaders, you may know that children who miss school breakfast and lunch are more likely to be sick, disruptive, inattentive and score lower on achievement tests. Good nutrition is essential for learning in school—learning does not end when school lets out and neither does the need for good nutrition!
